- 3:44:24 p.m. - Kim Bellino calls the Reading police – after prompts at 57 seconds the conversation begins. She tells the dispatcher about the police response to their house the night before that the officers were going to book Greenough for assault and the officers told them to call police if Greenough came back to the house. She informed the dispatcher that Greenough is at the house – 1462 Main Street. He came back and re-assaulted them and they were asked to leave by the property manager. They identified the suspect as Al Greenough. Reports that Greenough came into the house with his brother and he tried to throw a speaker at her but his brother deflected it and he proceeded to charge up the stairs and assault her boyfriend. He is there right now – his name is Al Greenough. Reports they are driving around in North Reading at Harold Parker State Park. Said Greenough’s brother, the property manager, is aware of the situation and they are waiting to come back to the apartment. She was told officers are going there now and to hang tight. Gave her name as Kim Bellino with a phone number [REDACTED]
