Item 1-1 was test fired using two live 9mm caliber cartridges from item 1-3, no malfunctions were noted.

After physical and microscopic examination of items 1-5 through 1-10 and 6-1, 6-2 against the test fires from item 1-1, my findings are the following:

A/ The discharged cartridge casings mentioned in items 1-5 through 1-10 above were fired from the Sig Sauer pistol described in item 1-1 above. Identification.

B/ The projectiles mentioned in items 6-1 and 6-2 above were fired from the Sig Sauer pistol described in item 1-1 above. Identification.

This report reflects the test results, conclusions, interpretations, and/or the findings of the analyst as indicated by the signature below. FIS Terminology:

Identification • A sufficient correspondence of individual characteristics to conclude that both items “questioned” evidence and “known” tests originated from the same source.

Exclusion • A disagreement of class or individual characteristics to conclude that both items “questioned” evidence and “known” tests did not originate from the same source.

Inconclusive • An insufficient correspondence of individual characteristics but a correspondence of class characteristics to conclude that both items possess similar rifling or similar markings and could have originated from the same source but there is insufficient information for identification.

Unsuitable • A lack of suitable microscopic characteristics to conclude that the items are not suitable for comparison.
